Figure 1. A schematic illustration of the study design. The 1000 subjects were randomly assigned to one of two groups: the control group (n = 500) and the intervention group (n = 500). The control group received a standard care package, while the intervention group received a comprehensive care package. The study was conducted over a period of 12 months. The primary outcome was the proportion of subjects who were free of any type of cancer at the end of the study. The secondary outcome was the proportion of subjects who were free of any type of cancer and had no symptoms of any type of cancer at the end of the study.
